Chicagoland's First FSC Accredited "Green" Lumber/Plywood Distributor and Treater

The Green movement is firmly establishing itself, with more and more owners demanding environmentally responsible design and construction.

The U.S. Green Building Council has established Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design (LEED) rating systems to evaluate buildings, and thousands of new buildings nationwide are calling for LEED certification.

While there are many aspects in "earning" LEED points, Chicago Flameproof can assist you in maximizing your material credits by virtue of our being certified by the FSC, as well as being within an accepted distance from virtually any job within the midwest United States.

Additionally, having direct FSC certification, Chicago Flameproof does not go through secondary supply sources, eliminating much wasted time as well as multiple cost mark-ups. Better service at more competitive pricing...Chicago Flameproof & Wood Specialties Corp.
